BIOL 2214 oral presentation grading rubric

Name________________________________________________________
Topic________________________________________________________
Date _______________________________________________________________________

Content (50 points)

____ (25) Content is thorough and relevant, appropriate amount of material is prepared, contains no fact errors, presentation stays on topic. Presentation covers pathophysiology of disease (if applicable), mode of action of agent, and potential adverse effects of the agent in appropriate detail. (Presentations less than 4 minutes in length will receive a deduction in points.)

____ (5) Presenter clearly relates presentation to class content and to Anatomy and Physiology, with all unfamiliar terms and concepts explained clearly and in easy to understand manner.

____ (5) Visual aids informative and well-prepared

____ (5) Conclusion – include slide that summarizes main points of presentation

____ (5) Reference sheet submitted, sources cited correctly in APA format

____ (5) CRAAP rubrics completed for 3 sources

Delivery (15 points)

____ (5) Proper pronunciation of all terms, clear, audible voice, good pace and diction (word choice), presentation flows well and is a logical order, limited use of filler words (um, like, you know, etc....)

____ (10) Good eye contact (not reading notes or slides), conversational tone, well-rehearsed, presenter appears knowledgeable about material in the

/ (65 POSSIBLE)

(Presentations that greatly exceed the time limitations may also receive a point deduction.)